

UNIVERSITIES UNDER SIEGE?

WEBINARS ON 11–12 OCTOBER, 2021

Due to the Covid-19 situation, the 4th annual Philosophy and Theory of Higher Education Conference that was planned to take place in Uppsala on October 19th–20th, 2020, was postponed. The new date is set for June 7th–9th, 2022. In the interim, the organizers have offered a series of two-day webinars twice a year. You are cordially invited to the next webinars on October 11th–12th, 2021. Webinar 1 will touch on the main themes of the conference (<https://www.humsam.uu.se/phec2020/about/>) in light of a comparative international analysis of the state of academic freedom. Webinar 2 welcomes all junior scholars coming to the study of higher education, including postdocs and MA and PhD students, to share and discuss their research and project ideas.

The event is organized by The Philosophy and Theory of Higher Education Society (PaTHES) and Uppsala University's Center for Higher Education and Research as Objects of Study (HERO).

The event is free and open to all interested, but registration is obligatory. If you wish to attend, please send an email, with your name, title and affiliation, and email-address to:
